MEMORANDUM OF DECISION AND ORDER

THIS MATTER is before the Court on Petitioner's Motion under 28, United States Code, Section 2255 to Vacate, Set Aside, or Correct Sentence by a Person in Federal Custody [Doc. 1]. For the reasons that follow, the Court dismisses the petition.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On March 27, 2013, pro se Petitioner Escovio Rios was convicted in this Court, following a jury trial, of conspiracy to possess with intent to distribute methamphetamine, in violation of 21 U.S.C. §§ 841(a)(1) and 846. [Crim. Case No. 2:12-cr-00025-MR-DLH-2 ("CR"), Doc. 42: Jury Verdict].

In preparation for Petitioner's sentencing hearing, the probation office prepared a presentence investigation report ("PSR"), calculating a total offense level of 34, and a criminal history category of II, yielding an advisory sentencing guidelines range of 168 to 210 months of imprisonment. [CR Doc. 69 at ¶ 71: PSR]. The PSR further noted that Petitioner faced a statutory mandatory minimum term of 10 years and a maximum term of life imprisonment under 21 U.S.C. §§ 841(b)(1)(A) and 846. [Id.].

On April 4, 2014, this Court sentenced Petitioner to 151 months' imprisonment. [CR Doc. 80: Judgment]. Judgment was entered on April 30, 2014. [Id.]. Petitioner appealed and on February 2, 2015, the Fourth Circuit affirmed Petitioner's conviction and sentence by unpublished opinion. [CR Doc. 98]. On November 3, 2015, this Court subsequently reduced Petitioner's sentence to 121 months pursuant to Amendment 782 and 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2). [CR Doc. 116].

Petitioner placed the instant petition in the prison mailing system on July 23, 2016, and it was stamp-filed in this Court on August 1, 2016. [Doc. 1]. As his sole claim in his Section 2255 petition, Petitioner contends that Amendment 794 to U.S.S.G. § 3B1.2 makes him eligible for a minor role adjustment to his already reduced sentence. [Id. at 4]. Petitioner cites to a recent case from the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals, United States v. Quintero-Leyva, 823 F.3d 519 (9th Cir. 2016), in which the Ninth Circuit, on a direct appeal from a conviction, held that Amendment 794 set out new guidelines for the determination of whether a defendant should be granted a minor role reduction and determined that Amendment 794 applied retroactively on direct appeals.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

Pursuant to Rule 4(b) of the Rules Governing Section 2255 Proceedings, sentencing courts are directed to promptly examine motions to vacate, along with “any attached exhibits and the record of prior proceedings” in order to determine whether a petitioner is entitled to any relief. After having considered the record in this matter, the Court finds that no response is necessary from the United States. Further, the Court finds that this matter can be resolved without an evidentiary hearing. See Raines v. United States, 423 F.2d 526, 529 (4th Cir. 1970).

DISCUSSION

Petitioner is not entitled to relief under Section 2255. Petitioner purports to raise a substantive claim for sentencing relief under 18 U.S.C. § 3852, based on a retroactive amendment to the sentencing guidelines. Petitioner must seek such relief on this claim, if at all, by filing a motion in his criminal case. See United States v. Jones, 143 F. App’x 526, 527 (4th Cir. 2005) (holding that the district court erred in construing the petitioners’ motions under 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2) for reductions in sentence based on retroactive application of Amendment 591 as Section 2255 motions); Ono v. Pontesso, No. 98-15124, 1998 WL 757068, at *1 (9th Cir. Oct. 26, 1998) (noting that a request for a modification of a sentence pursuant to an Amendment to the Sentencing Guidelines “is most properly brought as a motion under 18 U.S.C. § 3582”); see also United States v. Mines, No. 3:09-cr-106-HEH, 2015 WL 1349648, at *1 (E.D. Va. Mar. 4, 2015) (stating that, to the extent that the petitioner “seeks a reduction in sentence pursuant to any amendment to the United States Sentencing Guidelines, he must file a separate motion for reduction of sentence pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3582”). Thus, the Court will dismiss this action without prejudice to Petitioner to bring a motion for reduction of sentence in his underlying criminal action.

CONCLUSION

For the reasons stated herein, the Court will dismiss Petitioner’s motion to vacate without prejudice to Petitioner filing a motion for a sentence reduction in his criminal action.

The Court finds that the Petitioner has not made a substantial showing of a denial of a constitutional right. See generally 28 U.S.C. § 2253(c)(2); see also Miller-El v. Cockrell, 537 U.S. 322, 336-38 (2003) (in order to satisfy § 2253(c), a “petitioner must demonstrate that reasonable jurists would find the district court's assessment of the constitutional claims debatable or wrong") (citing Slack v. McDaniel, 529 U.S. 473, 484-85 (2000)). Petitioner has failed to demonstrate both that this Court's dispositive procedural rulings are debatable, and that his Motion to Vacate states a debatable claim of the denial of a constitutional right. Slack v. McDaniel, 529 U.S. 473, 484-85 (2000). As a result, the Court declines to issue a certificate of appealability. See Rule 11(a), Rules Governing Section 2255 Proceedings for the United States District Courts, 28 U.S.C. § 2255.

ORDER

IT IS, THEREFORE, ORDERED that Petitioner's Motion to Vacate [Doc. 1] is DISMISSED WITHOUT PREJUDICE.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the Court declines to issue a certificate of appealability.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
